MR. GEORGE ROBINS

IS HONOURED BY HAVING BEEN SELECTED BY

THE EARL OF WALDEGRAVE,

TO SELL BY PUBLIC COMPETITION,

THE VALUABLE CONTENTS

STRAWBERRY HILL,

AND IT MAY FEARLESSLY BE PROCLAIMED AS

THE MOST DISTINGUISHED GEM THAT HAS EVER ADORNED THE ANNALS OF AUCTIONS.

IT IS DEFINITELY FIXED FOR

MONDAY, THE 25TH DAY OF APRIL, 1842,

AND TWENTY-THREE FOLLOWING DAYS (SUNDAYS EXCEPTED),

And within will be found a repast for the Lovers of Literature and the Fine Arts, of which bygone days furnish no previous example, and it would be in vain to contemplate it in times to come.

The Catalogue (at 7s. each) will admit Four Persons to the Public View, and be a passport to the Purchaser throughout the Sale; they may be had at "GALIGNANI'S JOURNAL," in Paris; of Mr. I. A. G. WEIGEL, of Leipsic; at Strawberry Hill; at the Auction Mart; and at Mr. GEORGE ROBINS' Offices, Covent Garden. A few copies are printed upon large paper, at 12s. each.

The Private view will commence on the 28th Day of March, and the Public will be admitted on Monday, April 4th.

It is particularly requested, that the Visitors at Strawberry Hill will refrain from touching or displacing the Articles.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

FIRST.

The highest bidder is to be the purchaser, and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the lot so disputed is to be immediately put up again and re-sold.

SECOND.

The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and pay a deposit of five shillings in the pound, if required, and in default of which the lot or lots so purchased, are to be put up again and re-sold.

THIRD.

As it is presumed a true and correct description is given of each lot throughout the sale, on no account, whatever, shall any objection be made to take any lot either from a supposed mis-description, or otherwise; but the purchasers shall pay for the lot at the price it may be knocked down at notwithstanding any error or mis-statement, without any allowance or abatement whatever. All lots to be absolutely cleared away at the purchasers' expense, by the 24th day of May inclusive.

FOURTH.

As this auction is made on condition of prompt payment, the remainder of the purchase-money must absolutely be paid on or before the delivery of the lots, which, however, cannot take place during the auction unless paid for at the moment the lot be knocked down; the delivery of the lots to the purchasers will be made each day from 5 till 6 o'clock after the auction, and from 9 till 12 o'clock on each morning.

LASTLY.

Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited, and all lots uncleared or unsettled for after the time aforesaid, will be re-sold, with or without notice, by public or private sale; and any deficiency arising from such re-sale, together with all charges attending the same, shall be made good by the defaulter at this present sale, who shall have no claim for any surplus that may arise.

THE AUCTION DUTY IS TO BE PAID BY THE PURCHASERS.

PREFATORY REMARKS.

“ Some cry up Gunnesbury,
For Sion some declare,
And some say that with Chiswick House
No villa can compare ;
But ask the beaux of Middlesex,
Who know the country well,
If Strawberry Hill—if Strawberry Hill
Don't bear away the bell.”

THE EARL OF BATH'S Ballad on Strawberry Hill.

THE individual who has received instructions from the Right Honourable the Earl of Waldegrave, to distribute to the world the unrivalled and wondrous Collection at Strawberry Hill, formed by his Lordship's great ancestor, Horace Walpole, Earl of Orford, and has thus had placed within his power the ability to enrich the royal and national collections of every civilized country, the galleries of the cognoscenti, and the cabinets of amateurs, in every class of the highest walks of art; has had the singular good fortune, during a long professional career, to be the favoured agent in introducing to the public, in endless variety, unique collections of all that is rare in taste and vertu, and although, through his instrumentality, he has exchanged properties extending over several millions of pounds sterling, yet he approaches his present herculean undertaking with feelings such as he never experienced on any former occasion, fully sensible that the distribution of this precious museum, crowded with the tangible records of past ages—treasures consecrated by the hand of time and of genius—far exceeding in interest and importance all that has preceded it in the chronicles of auctions, and that no future sale can by possibility enter into rivalry with it.

Whether he considers the hallowed recollections which surround a pictorial and historical abode, so dear to its distinguished originator, and so often and so tenderly referred to in his letters and writings, or the extreme rarity and value of the collection contained therein, rich in all that can delight the antiquarian, the scholar, the virtuoso, or the general lover of art, so perfect and unapproachable in all its details that each will quit it with the fixed opinion that his peculiar tastes were those to which the energies, the learning, and the research of the noble founder were directed; when there pass before him in review the splendid Gallery of Paintings, teeming with the finest works of the greatest masters,—matchless Enamels, of immortal bloom, by Petitot, Boit, Bordier, and Zincke,—Chasings, the workmanship of Cellini and Jean de Bologna,—noble specimens of Faenza Ware, from the pencils of Robbia and Bernard Palizzi,—Glass, of the rarest hues and tints, executed by Jean Cousin and other masters of the fifteenth, sixteenth, and seventeenth centuries,—Limoges Enamels of the period of the Renaissance, by Leonard and Courtoise,—Roman and Grecian Antiquities, in Bronze and Sculpture,—Oriental and European China, of the choicest forms and colours,—exquisite and matchless Missals, painted by Raphael and Julio Clovio,—magnificent specimens of cinque cento Armour,—Miniatures, illustrative of the most interesting periods of history,—a valuable collection of Drawings and Manuscripts,—Engravings, in countless numbers and of infinite value,—a costly Library, extending to fifteen thousand volumes, abounding in splendid editions of the classics, illustrated, scarce and unique works, with ten thousand other relics of the arts and history of by-gone ages,—he may well feel overpowered at the evident impossibility of rendering to each that lengthened notice which their merits and their value demand. He has, however, attempted to supply this as far as possible by the introduction of notes into the body of the catalogue, many of them from the pen of Walpole himself, whose work on this, the favourite object of his life, printed at his own press at Strawberry Hill, has, from its scarcity, become an object of value to the Bibliomaniac; but interesting as these must prove, he considers that something beyond this is due to the memory of the mighty master who planned and matured this wondrous whole, and whose life, almost from the cradle to the tomb, was occupied in snatching from the depredations of time the few remaining specimens of the classic ages—the treasures of gothic halls and cathedrals—and the antiquities of the middle ages; and feeling that every individual who visits this Musée de Rareté, will desire to know something of the labours of the mighty spirit who, by the magic of his pen, has caused him to lose “the memory of himself” in the pages of romance, and with the sentiment that none but a poet or a novelist should illustrate the classic abode of the author of the Castle of Otranto, he with pleasure transfers to his Prefatory Remarks the following characteristic article from the Miscellany of W. Harrison Ainsworth, Esq., who having so admirably illustrated those national monuments, the “Tower of London,” and “Windsor Castle,” has, with his customary tact, turned his attention to the most striking feature of the eighteenth century, and thus introduces the reader to

STRAWBERRY HILL.

“The following account of pictures and rarities is given with a view to their future dispersion, the several purchasers will find a history of their purchases, nor do virtuosos dislike to refer to such a catalogue for an authentic certificate of their curiosities.” Preface to the Description of Strawberry Hill, by HORACE WALPOLE.

ORD ORFORD, scarcely known by his title, but celebrated throughout Europe as Horace Walpole, was one to whose refined taste the present age is as deeply indebted for the impetus which he gave to the study of the works of art of the Middle Ages, as the century in which he lived, for the instruction and amusement afforded by his writings. His letters are enduring monuments of epistolary style; his publications on the Fine Arts, the Drama, Fiction, Biography, and general Literature, attest his various ability; and Strawberry Hill yet remains to shew, not only how much could be accomplished by one man, but how admirably he performed the self-allotted task, which was throughout one long labour of love.—But Strawberry Hill, with all its treasures, like many a place of older renown, is destined to illustrate the sad truth, that ‘nothing on earth continueth in one stay,’ and to this contingency the noble collector of its wealth of art appears to have been fully alive; nay, more, the passage which we have selected to introduce this imperfect account, clearly indicates that such was his expectation.

“It is impossible to witness, without feelings of regret, the dispersion of objects on whose acquirement a whole life has been spent; but, at the same time, it may be questioned whether this almost inevitable fate be not productive of corresponding advantages. An object is prized, not only from its intrinsic value, but from its association with remarkable events or illustrious names. Thus, the antique mirror, the jewelled goblet, the Damascened blade, may all be beautiful in themselves; but they acquire a rarer value, are invested with far higher attributes, when we know that one of these reflected the fair features of a Mary Stuart, or a Marguerite de Valois; that another was brimmed with ruby wine at the feasts of the chivalrous founder of the Garter; or that a third belonged to the identical poniard which slew a Medicis, or hung by the side of a Du Guesclin. When, in addition to historical recollections, we find that men of taste and learning have subsequently been the possessors of these objects, and have conferred upon them a fresh celebrity, they rise in estimation with each occasion, and are more eagerly sought by the public; the new link gives increased value to the chain; and when, after an interval, they are again dispersed, the circle of information is widened, and the means of improvement become more generally diffused.

“Another view of the case may also be taken: when the collection, as in the present instance, is a larger one, a number of its treasures must, of necessity, be hidden or overlooked; while passing from the hands of one to those of many, the reputation of each is distinctly proclaimed by every new possessor.

“This thought must reconcile us to the fate of Strawberry Hill, which, as it now stands, we take the last opportunity of describing. In doing so, we shall not,—for our space would not admit of it,—follow the details of the catalogue, our object being rather to indicate some of its most striking features, than to guide the reader through all its mazes.

“In our passage from the low monastic deerway to the hall of entrance, attention is for a moment arrested by a small, very small oratory, wherein is a saint enshrined, and beyond this, by a cloister, which contains two objects of interest. One of these is the portrait of Leonora d'Este, ‘Dia Helienera,’ a bas relief head, in marble, cold as the princess herself to her unhappy lover, who has bestowed upon her

‘One half the laurel that o’ershades his grave.’

If this portrait be really like, Leonora was certainly no beauty. The other attraction is the vase of ‘the pensive Selima,’ whose fate inspired another poet. It is quite deep enough to drown a cat! Passing these, without attempting to reconcile associations, the portal of the ‘Castle’ expands, and we enter the hall, whose only light is derived, as Horace Walpole describes, ‘from lean windows fattened with rich saints in painted glass,’ and where depends the lantern ‘which casts the most venerable gloom on the stairs that ever was seen since the days of Abelard.’

“A narrow passage leads from hence into the ‘Refectory,’ and here leisure and space are allowed to begin that inquiry which promises so much, and keeps its promise so well. The pictures in this room are, for the most part, family portraits, or those of intimate friends. At the lower end stands the great minister, Sir Robert, in all the glory of the robes of the Garter, and his two wives on either hand: the first, Catherine Shorter, a copy from Kneller, by Jarvis,—a very pretty woman, dressed simply in white, with a blue scarf, en sautoir; and the second, Maria Skerrett (irreverently called ‘Moll,’ by Lady Mary Wortley Montagu), by Jarvis himself, in the costume of a shepherdess; she is very pretty also. Their simplicity of demeanour and attire contrast strikingly with Sir Robert's splendour. Beneath these portraits is placed a beautiful table of Sicilian jasper, covered with fine old porcelain, and still more antique Etruscan relics, in the shape of bowls and beakers and vases; and over the table hangs an object of great curiosity and interest, a hunting horn of rich enamel, upon copper; the painting being on one side the History of St. Hubert, and on the other, a series of allegorical figures. The enamel is of that beautiful kind called Limoges, of which there are so many specimens in other parts of the house. To return to the pictures: we have in a row the pictures of Sir Robert's sons and daughters. Here are, the second Lord Orford, attired in red velvet; Edward, in the robes of the Bath; and Horace Walpole himself in a scanty, collarless, blue velvet coat, and a waistcoat of crimson velvet, reaching down to his knees. The daughters are Lady Maria Walpole and Lady Malpas; the last a beauty. Over the chimney-piece of pointed architecture (designed by Bentley) is a picture by Sir Joshua Reynolds, called 'Conversation,' containing the portraits of Lord Edgecumbe, Mr. Williams, and George Selwyn, who never missed an execution, and who, when he had a tooth taken out, 'dropped his handkerchief as a signal for the dentist to begin.' Sir Horace Mann, and his brother, Galfridus, painted by Astley; Lady Anne Osborn, by Sir Godfrey Kneller; and Lady Dorothy Walpole, in a Turkish dress, by Jarvis, are scattered about the room. More recent additions are Lord and Lady Radstock; but the gem of the collection is the charming group by Sir Joshua—the three beauties, the Ladies Laura, Maria, and Horatia Waldegrave, assembled round a work-table. The colours are gone from this attractive picture, but unequalled grace and delicacy still remain; it is far finer than 'the Graces,' by the same master, in the National Gallery. The massive ebony tables, the chairs, of Walpole's own design, that seem built, as no doubt they were, expressly to accommodate the wearers of the wide-spreading skirts of that day; the antique bureau, and the famous clock, by Le Roi; and more than all, the windows ornamented with fragments of Dutch art (one specimen of which, a cobbler at work before an open window, whistling to a bird in a cage, is marvellous for its effect), are not among the least attractions of the Refectory.

"Ascending the staircase, we pause at the first landing-place, and then enter the Breakfast-room, 'furnished with blue paper, and blue and white linen.' It is the prettiest and most cheerful place that can be imagined, and is filled with objects of various kinds, miniatures predominating. Of these, there are two frames, carefully concealed by green silk blinds, which contain so many perfect gems. The first consists of nine miniatures, principally by Isaac and Peter Oliver, and is devoted to Sir Kenelm Digby and his family. Four of them are portraits of Sir Kenelm's wife, the beautiful Venetia Stanley, who is represented at three different periods of her life, and once after death. The last is extremely curious, and, like all the others, exquisitely finished. Sir Kenelm's devotion to his lovely wife is shadowed forth in the motto—'Vindica te tibi,' which appears in gold letters above his own portrait. The second frame contains fifteen miniatures, chiefly by Hilliard and Petitot: the most striking portraits are, Robert Devereux, Earl of Essex, Carey, Lord Hunsdon, the Duke of Vendôme, 'with a red knot,' the Princess Palatine, the Duchesse de Montpensier, and the Duchesse de Montbazou.

But the most remarkable of all is a miniature painting, representing the interior of the House of Lords, with King James the First on the throne. This picture is so small as to require a magnifying-glass to trace it accurately. Over the chimney-piece are also some interesting portraits:—Miss Farren (afterwards Countess of Derby), gay, and sparkling, and high-coloured, her laughing eyes and mouth all comedy; Pope; Lady Mary Leppel; and a later celebrity, in severe contrast to Lady Derby, Mrs. Hannah More. In other parts of the room are, Holbein, by himself; Cowley the poet, by Sir Peter Lely; the Counte de Grammont, at the discovery of whose portrait in Paris, Walpole was in such raptures; and, 'in a frame of silver filigraine,' the famous Charlotte de la Trimonille (also Countess of Derby), the heroic defender of Lathom House—

'Who, miracle of womankind,
Lent mettle to the meanest hind
That manned the castle wall.'

There are, also, more portraits of the Digby family; and, among the most remarkable, an unknown head, by Holbein; Thomas Seymour, Lord Sudely, the High Admiral, and brother of the Protector Somerset, with pride in his eye to dare anything, and a neck that seems to defy the block, to which his turbulent nature led him. We must not omit the well-known picture of Madame du Deffand, and the Duchesse de Choiseul; that of Rose, the royal gardener, presenting the first pine-apple grown in England to Charles the Second; the portrait of the late Margravine of Anspach, then a young and very pretty woman; nor the two Miss Berrys, with countenances finely expressive of intelligence. But the list would be a long one were we to enumerate half the contents of this room, which is, for the most part, as Horace Walpole left it, with the exception of the portraits of the present Earl and Countess of Waldegrave, and some modern ornaments.

"Before we approach the Library, the small, but curious collection, meets the view, which Walpole called his 'Armoury'; and thus describes:—'A vestibule open with three arches on the landing-place, and niches full of trophies of old Coats of mail, Indian shields, made of rhinoceros' hides; broad-swords, quivers, long-bows, arrows, and spears; all supposed to have been taken by Sir Terry Robsart (an ancestor), in the Holy Wars.' Hence we find in a niche, on the staircase, the armour of Francis the First, of steel-gilt, and covered with basreliefs; his lance is of ebony inlaid with silver, his sword steel, beautifully inlaid with gold, and probably the work of Benvenuto Cellini. It is a magnificent suit, and at once recalls the figure of the gallant monarch, far more effectively, indeed, than the splendid armour in the Louvre, which appears to want height. Two shields for tournaments hang near it, painted by Polydore; one bears the head of Medusa, the other that of Perseus. An alto-relievo, in oak, of Henry the Third of England, of his time, stands over the Armoury, and within it are the various contents enumerated by Walpole, with some things not described by him; for instance, a singular relic of the Norman rule, an ancient couvre-feu, and a most elaborately-carved and antique pair of bellows; a sketch of which appears underneath. The battleaxes, shields, maces, &c., are all highly curious; and two corslets bear the marks of some fatal affray.

“Our next step is the transition from war to peace—from the Armoury to the Library; where, ranged in cases, modelled from the choir of Old St. Paul’s, are collected about 15,000 volumes. Of these, we shall refer only to the least known, which are contained in a small glass case. The first, and, in our estimation, most valuable, is a book of original drawings, by Janet, formerly in the possession of Brantome, and subsequently in that of Mariette, the famous collector, who has written the following inscription inside the cover:—'Recueil des portraits des Princes et Princesses et des Seigneurs et Dames qui composoient la Cour de François 1er, Roy de France, a appartenu sans doute à Brantôme. Ce qui me le fait prejurer c'est que plusieurs des inscriptions sont ecrites de sa main. Je m'en suis affermi par la confrontation que j'en ay faite avec un MS. authentique tout corrigé de la main de ce célèbre ecivain. (Signed) Mariette.' The portraits are all in pencil, tinted with red chalk, like the drawings of Sir Thomas Lawrence, which they fully equal; and amongst them we find some noble heads: Francis the First, Louise of Savoy, Margaret of Navarre, Diane de Poitiers, Lautrec, the Admiral Bonnavet, Claude de France, Francis the Second, the Baron de Figeac, Medelaine de France the first wife of James the Fifth of Scotland, and some thirty more. It is a priceless volume, though Horace Walpole got it cheap enough. We find a memorandum in his handwriting beneath Mariette's description, to the effect, that the Earl of Harwick offered through his agent 100*l.*, but the person entrusted with the commission 'was not at the sale, or not in time.'

“Another very precious volume is a collection of original drawings, in pen and ink, by Callot, the greater part of which have never been engraved, though the title-page bears the usual designation of ‘Diverses Fantaisies de noble Jac. Callot.’

“One MS. of great interest, is a book of the expenses of Villiers, first Duke of Buckingham, kept by Sir Sackville Crowe, probably his Grace’s treasurer. The various items are very curious, and shew the unsparing profusion with which he scattered his money. One long list refers to the journey to Spain, when he went on his embassy to Madrid. Here is one item:— ‘Given to the Condessa of Olivarez, her butler, for fruit, 14s.’ This same Condessa of Olivarez was the ‘teterrima causa’ of Buckingham’s sudden departure from Madrid, which broke off the projected alliance between Charles and the Infanta. Other disbursements refer to the last of the race of court jesters; for instance:— ‘To the King’s foole, 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*’; ‘To Archy, 20*l.*’; ‘To Rosado, 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*’ And the following item proves the value set by Buckingham upon the services of his dentist:— ‘Given to a tooth-drawer, 20*l.*’ The whole of the accounts throw considerable light on the personal history of the favourite.

“Amongst the printed books, the most curious and rare are, ‘The New Year’s Gift,’ written by ‘Microphilus’ (the dwarf Jeffery Hudson), and presented by him, in 1638, to Henrietta, the Queen of Charles the First; ‘Le Tombeau de Margueritte de Valois, Reine de Navarre’; a copy of Virgil, printed by Baskerville, with drawings on the covers by Lady Diana Beauclerc; on the edges, which are highly gilt, is a view of Blenheim, which disappears altogether when the volume is closed. The identical copy of Homer used by Pope for his translation; it is a small Amsterdam edition, date 1707, with the text in Greek and Latin, and bears this inscription: ‘E Libris, A. Pope, 1714’; and lower down, ‘Finished y^e translation in Feb. 1719-20, A. Pope’; it is illustrated by a pencil-sketch of Twickenham Church in the poet’s own hand; two school-books of Horace Walpole, Homer, and Horace, very small and neat; ‘Letters et Mémoires du Chevalier d’Eon,’ by him-*(her-)*self, with several portraits, printed in London by Jacques Dixwell, 1764; the ‘Catalogue of the King’s (Charles the First’s) Collection of Limnings,’ published at Walpole’s expense; Genealogical History of Yvery, London, 1742, 2 vols. large 8vo, printed by H. Walpole and never sold; the Earl of Northumberland’s Household-book, &c.

“Of other rarities, are a letter from Catherine Parr, the widow of Henry the Eighth, written, in the year she died, ‘to her constant Thomas Seymour, Lord High Admiral of England,' and signed, 'Catherine, the Queen, K. P. ;' and a most characteristic letter from Oliver Cromwell to his wife, the day after the battle of Dunbar. We cannot resist the temptation of transcribing it :—

“ ‘For my beloved wife, Elizabeth Cromwell, at the Cockpitt, these :

“ ‘My dearest,—I have not leisure to write much, but I could chide thee that in many of thy letters thou writest to mee, that I should not be unmindfull of thee and thy little ones. Truly, if I love you not too well, I think I err not onn the othere much. Thou art deerer to me than any creature ; lett that snffice. The Lord hath shewed us an exceedinge mercye—who can tell how great it is ? My weake fayth hath been upheld—I have bene in my inward man marvellously supported, though I assure thee I grow an oulde man, and feel infirmitys of age marvelouslye stealing upon me—would my corruptions did as fast decrease ! Pray on my behalfe in the latter respect. The particulars of the late successe Harry Vane or Gil-Pickeringe will impart to thee. My love to all deear friendes.—I rest thine, O. Cromwell.

“ ‘Dunbarr, the 4th of Sept., 1650.’

“Of the portraits above the Library we shall say nothing—they are all family ones ; but a few miniatures must be noticed, as well as a curious padlock, in the shape of a hand ; a bronze lamp of the cinque cento, which forms the initial letter at the head of this article, and many urns, ossuaria, and antique relics. The gallantry of Henry the Eighth is conspicuously set forth in the little clock of silver gilt (drawn below), which he presented to Anne Boleyn on the morning of his marriage. It is richly chased and engraved, and ornamented with fleur de lys, &c. On the top sits a lion, bearing the arms of England. The weights, which are gilt, are curiously chased with the initials of Henry and Anne within true-lovers' knots. One bears the inscription, 'The most happye,' the other, the royal motto. This love token was, doubtless, meant as an emblem of enduring affection. It remains the same, after an interval of more than three centuries ; but four years only after it was given, the object of Henry's eternal love was sacrificed on the scaffold. The clock still goes ; it should have stopped for ever when Anne Boleyn died ! Over the fire-place is a specimen of the fine arts in the 15th century,—a large picture for the time, representing the marriage of Henry the Sixth of England with Magaret of Anjou. It is painted with all the care and fidelity of expression which characterized the illuminated MSS. of the period. The miniatures are of later date ; one is the portrait of a natural son of Henry the Eighth, whose youth promised well for his future fame. He is painted in his shirt and nightcap, which is most curiously embroidered with black, and the legend round the picture informs us that it is the likeness of 'Henry, Duck off Richmod. Ætatis Suae XV.' Beside the Duck is Sir Francis Drake, the navigator, by Hilliard; there are, also, the portraits of the High Admiral Nottingham, Gondomar the Spanish Ambassador, and Mary Fairfax, the widow of Villiers, second Duke of Buckingham.

"The Star Chamber, though rich in painted glass, cabinets of medals, old coffers, and triangular Welsh chairs, 'picked up by Dickey Bateman for three and sixpence a-piece,' will not detain us long—though, if we examined only the coins seriatim, our stay might 'stretch to the crack of doom.' We shall simply advert to the broad piece of Elizabeth, in which the resemblance was so faithfully ugly that she forbade its issue; and to the satirical silver medal struck in Holland, of Oliver Cromwell, the subject of which, though coarse to a degree, is exceedingly humorous.

"The Holbein Chamber claims our attention next, the contents of which refer for the most part to the time of the great artist, whom we find not only a painter but a sculptor. Witness the exquisitely carved head of Henry the Eighth, in box-wood, with a small dial hanging from his neck, and the no less elaborate full-length figure of the bluff monarch, in terra cotta. Albert Durer's skill in carving is set forth in a singularly beautiful relieve, cut in stone, of a single combat before the Emperor Maximilian. It bears the date of 1522. Here is the original chair of the last Abbot of Glastonbury, from which so many copies have been made; it is of oak, and bears various inscriptions—'Johannes Arthurus Monacus Glastonic, &c.,' testifying its origin. The ebony table and chairs of the same wood (of which there are nearly three dozen in different parts of the building), are extremely beautiful; and a number of ancient combs (one of which, of ivory, is said to have belonged to Queen Bertha, and another of tortoiseshell, given with more likelihood to Mary Queen of Scots) are singularly curious. But, perhaps, the chiefest amongst this class of relics is the red hat of Cardinal Wolsey—the token of his ecclesiastical dignity; it is carefully preserved in a glass case. The pictures are numerous: here we find all those traced by Vertue from the originals by Holbein, now at Windsor or Hampton Court; a portrait of Charlotte de France, by Janet; a curious one of Louis the Eleventh, praying, with an open missal before him in the shape of a heart; Mary Queen of Scots—of course, unlike all others; Henry the Fifth of England; the Maréchal Monluc; Henry and Anne Boleyn, frequently repeated; Philip of Spain and Mary, a copy from the Woburn picture; Anthony of Bourbon, the unheard-of, intangible father of Henri Quarte;

Sir Thos. Wyatt; the Duchess of Suffolk; Margu rite de France, &c. An exquisite pencil-drawing by Holbein must not be overlooked, of a fire-place in one of Henry the Eighth's palaces; nor the chimney-piece which adorns the 'Holbein chamber,' and which was designed by Mr. Bentley, from the tomb of Archbishop Warham, at Canterbury.

“The Grand Gallery, of really noble dimensions and superbly decorated, now lures our willing feet towards the richest treasures of Strawberry. We find we have not left ourselves space to dilate upon them as they deserve, and our observations must be briefly directed to the most precious objects. Foremost amongst them is the magnificent Roman eagle, found within the precincts of the baths of Caracalla, in 1742. It well deserves the reputation which it enjoys, of being ‘one of the finest pieces of Greek sculpture in the world.’ Here are the fine vases and cisterns of majolica, of which the figures on the latter were designed by Giulio Romano. Here, too, an exquisite coffer, glittering with mother-of-pearl, and reflecting every ray from the stained windows above it; a bust of Vespasian, in basalt; beautiful bronzes, and pictures, interesting from their antiquity and intrinsic worth. Of the latter are, the marriage of Henry the Seventh; a group, by Janet, of Catherine de Medicis, her three sons, Francis, Charles, and Henry, successively Kings of France, and Margu ritte de Valois; the full-length portrait of Lord Falkland, in white, by Van Somer, which suggested the incident of the picture walking out of its frame, in the ‘Castle of Otranto;’ Charles Brandon, Duke of Suffolk, and his royal bride; the beautiful Laura Walpole, Countess of Waldegrave and Duchess of Gloucester, by Sir Joshua Reynolds, and many more to which we cannot even allude.

“A peep at the round Drawing Room at the extremity of the Gallery shews us fine stained windows, shedding their parti-coloured light on vases of porcelaine and services of silver; where, above the rich, mosaic chimney-piece, stand silver beakers and jars, valuable for their weight of metal alone,—to say nothing of their workm nship; where the China of Sevres vies with the faenza of Florence, and the portrait of Vandyke's ladye-love, Mistress Lemon, looks smilingly down, a pendant to his own picture in the Louvre. The Countesses of Leicester and Carlisle, by the same inimitable hand, grace the same chamber; a vase of majolica bears the arms of France and the Medici, and probably belonged to Catherine; and ivory cups and objects of Indian art lie scattered on the tables. Getting glimpses at every turn of closets filled with china, and painted glass, and models in terra cotta and marble, we proceeded to the North Chamber, filled, like every other, with pictures, antiquities, and objects of virtù.

“To begin with comparatively modern times, two pictures by Hogarth are, at the least, attractive. One of these is the original sketch of the Beggar's Opera, bought at the sale of Rich, the manager of Covent Garden; and the other, which we have transferred to these pages, the rehearsal of an opera, with caricatures of the principal performers. Nicolini stands in front,

Mrs. Toft is at the harpsichord, Margarita is entering in black; the gentleman with a patch over one eye is Sir Robert Rich. Near the chimney-piece is a large picture of Henry the Eighth and one of his Queens, Edward the Sixth, Mary and Philip of Spain, and Queen Elizabeth, with several allegorical figures, and a long eulogy upon the royal race of Tudor inscribed round the frame. Beneath this is a bust of Francis the Second of France, in marble, and a bas-relief, in bronze, of Anne of Brittany. On one side we see a large portrait of the celebrated Bianca Capello, by Vasari, with her singular story written on the frame; and facing her, at the other end of the room, the portrait of one even better known to fame, the fascinating Ninon de l'Enclos. This is the only original portrait known to exist of the lovely and accomplished fair one, to whose charms, however, Walpole seems to have been insensible; in our opinion she must have been as beautiful as the world has always supposed her. She is very fair, with auburn hair and hazel eyes, and her dress, which is somewhat decolleté, is prettily confined by a narrow pink riband fastened at the shoulder with small pearls and coral beads. Near her are Mademoiselle de la Valière, Madame de Maintenon, Madame de Grammont, &c. A fine Rembrandt and a Nicolas Poussin adorn this end of the chamber. In a small cabinet, covered with medallions, is an illuminated psalter, which, but for the 'Hours' of Anne of Brittany in Paris, would be priceless. It is the work of Julio Clovio, and its authenticity, did it not speak for itself, is thus attested in Walpole's handwriting:—'This beautiful MS. of the Psalms, illuminated for the Prince d'Anjou, in 1537, by Don Julio Clovio, scholar of Julio Romano, and afterwards purchased by Thomas Howard, Earl of Arundel, was, on the dispersion of the Arundel collection, bought, in 1720, by Edward Harley, Earl of Oxford, who bequeathed it to his only daughter, Margaret, Duchess of Portland, on whose death it was purchased, in May, 1786, by Horace Walpole.' He further adds,—'As there was no Duc d'Anjou in 1537, the Princip. Andegavensis, mentioned in one of the illuminations, must have been Theodore d'Anjou de Mazières, who was aged about thirty in 1537, and who was son of a natural son of Charles d'Anjou, K. of Naples.' It is a small thick MS., and executed in a style of art that surpasses belief.

"Before we leave this chamber, one glance must be allowed at the little glass case in the corner, which is filled with curiosities. Here is the wondrous speculum of the renowned Dr. Dee,—the mirror which a piece of highly polished cannel coal, of a circular form, with a handle to it. It is a very mysterious-looking object, and worthy of being called 'The Devil's looking-glass.' In the same case are several apostle spoons, a German wooden spoon, finely carved; twelve silver plates, exquisitely engraved, which belonged to the great Earl of Clarendon; the wedding gloves of Mrs. Hampden, and a pair worn by James the First; four silver owls, used for whistles to call servants, before the introduction of hand-bells; the whistle is formed by the perches on which the emblems of wisdom are standing, and the noise made through them resembles the doleful cry of those lugubrious birds. One of the most puzzling objets is a box of large wooden counters, very thin and painted on one side; in Walpole's catalogue they are called 'ancient round trenchers, with scriptural mottoes;' but they seem rather to have belonged to some game; and as to the scriptural character of the mottoes, here is a specimen:—'Women are like nettles, who toucheth them they sting them,' but hurt not those who wringe them.

'Kelly did all his feats upon;'

“The adjoining room,—the last we shall venture to dwell upon, and of which we present a sketch, is ‘The Tribune.’”

“To detail the wonders contained in this beautiful room would claim a volume for itself; what justice can then be done to it in a few lines? There is a cabinet containing at least a hundred miniatures by Petitot and other great masters; and glass cases on either hand, the shelves of which are loaded with relics. Amongst the latter, gleaming with gold and jewels, is the missal painted by Raffaele and his scholars for Claude de France, the Queen of François Premier. It is covered with turquoises and rubies, and on each cover is an enormous cornelian, with an intaglio of the Crucifixion on one side, and a relievo on the other; it is very small, and might be worn as an ornament. The famous Florentine boar, the Jupiter Serapis, the dagger of Henry the Eighth, snuff boxes, medals, intaglios, rings, and gems of every conceivable kind crowd upon the view, and it only wants the silver bell of Benvenuto Cellini to bewilder us with the perfection of art. Its form we have faintly portrayed; but to describe it adequately is impossible. It was made by the artist whose name it bears, for Pope Clement the Seventh, and is covered all over in the highest relievo 'with antique moths, flies, grasshoppers, and other insects, the Virgin and boy-angels at the top, a wreath of leaves and lizards at the bottom.' After seeing this, we cease to admire even that which is worthy of all praise: Callot's Battle-piece, the portrait of Madame de Sévigné, the letter written in her name from the Elysian Fields, by Madame du Deffand, and pictures and bronzes without end; pass before us in succession, and leave us still amazed at the untiring perseverance of the man who heaped up all these treasures, now about to be spread once more over Europe."

Mr. ROBINS ventures to express a hope that many of the invaluable items in the collection may obtain a final resting place in the galleries and archives of the British Museum; and he would most respectfully draw the attention of the Trustees of that National Establishment to the present occasion, as the only one which can enable them to form the nucleus of a collection of domestic archæology, embracing memorials of the dynasties of the Plantagenets, the Tudors, the Stuarts, and the Guelphs, of their ministers and favourites, and of the wisest and greatest that flourished in their respective æras: He would also earnestly impress upon all who possess, as Walpole did, a vocation to virtù, that a similar opportunity of enriching their collections can never occur—neither fortune nor research, after the distribution of this museum, can enable them to unearth such treasures, and he thinks there will hardly be found an individual, whether tinged with the spirit of antiquarianism or an admirer of the Augustan period of British History, but will be anxious to procure some relic of him who may be denominated the last of that glorious age; and who by his inimitable works of fiction, his charming correspondence, and his delicate perception of all that was choice and beautiful in art, achieved for himself a glorious immortality in the memory of mankind.

In conclusion, it is the pleasing office of the writer to tender his best acknowledgments to those friends who have, on this occasion, afforded him much valuable information and assistance: to the popular author of the preceding account of Strawberry Hill, necessarily brief, but sketched with the hand of a master, and to Mr. Alfred Delamotte, for his spirited illustrations thereto, his thanks are especially due; as also to Mr. Samuel Woodburne for his luminous observations on the collection of Engravings; to his relative, Mr. Mackinlay, for various notes connected with antiquarian research; and to his near relation, Mr. Edmund Robins, with a worthy coadjutor in Mr. Forster, long celebrated in the annals of collectors, for their untiring co-operation in the formation and arrangement of the Catalogue.

MADAME DU DEFFAND.

No. 6.

107 The whole of the highly interesting and valuable manuscripts bequeathed to the Honble. Horace Walpole, by the justly celebrated Marie de Vichy, afterwards Madame du Deffand, who died in 1780. When we consider the rank this lady held in the beau monde of Paris—her splendid talents and varied accomplishments—and the terms of friendship in which she lived with most of the philosophers, poets, historians, and wits of the day, not only of her own country but with all Europe, as these papers will amply prove, what lights may be thrown on that most eventful period of French history—the commencement of the great revolution. In this collection there are upwards of 800 Letters by her to Horace Walpole, of the greatest interest. Such Letters, clothe in beautiful language, and written, as they were, by an observant and highly cultivated mind to a friend at a distance, in full confidence and without restraint, present a “True History of the Time” and are invaluable as a literary treasure. To give anything like a complete list of these papers would far exceed the limits of a catalogue; indeed, it would require volumes to do so. The whole have been carefully preserved in the same state as they were left by Lord Orford, and are contained in a large cedarwood chest. They are divided into volumes and packets, and numbered from I. to XIII., as under. They will be offered in one or thirteen lots, as may be determined upon at the time of sale.

- I.—A large folio vol., bound in green vellum, Œuvres de Mons. le Chevalier de Boufflers, in prose and verse
- II.—A folio vol., bound in vellum, Recueil de Lettres Choiesies de Differentes Personnes
- III. A folio vol., bound in calf, and 1 ditto in blue paper, Lettres de Mons. de Voltaire, à Madame du Deffand
- IV.—A small 4to vol., in green vellum, Journal de Madame du Deffand
- V.—A small 4to vol., bound in red Morocco, with a silver lock, and Recueil de Divers Ouvrages, par Madame du Deffand

This vol. contains her beautiful portraits of the nobility and gentry of the courts of France at this most interesting period, and they are written with taste, spirit, and wit, which has never been equalled; in the fly leaf will be found an account of her life, and beautiful eulogium on her, by her old and tried friend, Horace Walpole.

- VI.—A large bundle or packet of manuscript papers, Melanges de Differentes Pièces, Letters, Songs, Fables, &c., some very curious
- VII.—A ditto, Melanges de Differentes Pièces, vers et prose
- VIII.—A ditto, Melanges de Differentes Pièces, lettres, &c., vers et prose
- IX.—A large parcel or bundle of manuscripts, Melanges de toute de Pieces, vers et prose, amongst them will be found letters from D. Hume, Mons. de Voltaire, Madame de Stael, and President Lambert, many of them of the highest interest
- X.—A large packet of manuscripts, Melanges de Differentes Pièces, Plays, Poems, Fables, Lettres, &c., by different authors, some of which are very curious
- XI.—A packet containing several hundred original letters, addressed to Madame du Deffand, by Voltaire, Rousseau, De Lisle, Montesque, Madame de Stael, Horace Walpole, the President Hainault, Baron Bernstorff, &c., highly valuable and interesting
- XII.—Seven large packets containing upwards of eight hundred original letters, written by Madame du Deffand to Horace Walpole, giving an account of what was daily passing in Paris, and her own opinion on the different events, written with great truth and naïveté, and clothed in beautiful language,—these packets are extremely interesting
- XIII.—Five bundles or packets of printed works, pamphlets, tracts, plays, poems, &c., many of which are extremely rare and curious
- 108 England's Forewarning, or a relation of true, strange and wonderful visions and prophetic revelations concerning these tragical, sinful and dismal times, shewed four or five years since to Mrs. Grace Cary of Bristol, 1644, very curious; Sapientia Solomonis, 4to, from the library of Queen Elizabeth, and England's Worthies or the State Champions, in honour of his Excellency Sir Thomas Fairfax, in a poem of 3 parts, by John Windover of London, apprentice 3
- 109 A curious manuscript roll on vellum, a Genealogical Tree from Noah to Lord Orford
- 110 The Freedom of King's Lynn, in Norfolk, presented to Horace Walpole, on vellum; a very curious print on satin, Jesuitical, and a quantity of drawings, verses, &c., by Sir Edward Walpole

- 19 An oval Portrait of Lady Elizabeth Berkeley, Lady Craven, afterwards the celebrated Margravine of Anspach, 1793 ROMNEY

The following lines were written by Horace Walpole, 1779, in praise of this lady and of the artist.

Full many an Artist has on canvass fix'd
 All charms that Nature's pencil ever mix'd—
 The witchery of Eyes, the Grace that tips,
 The inexpressible douceur of Lips
 Running alone, in this fair image caught
 Each Charm's expression and each Feature's thought;
 And shows how in their sweet assemblage sit
 Taste, Spirit, Softness, Sentiment and Wit.

Signed H. W.

- 20 A most curious old picture, representing Rose, the royal gardener, presenting the first Pine Apple raised in England to Charles II., at Dawny Court near Windsor. The scene is very perfect in idea and well painted, presumed to be by DANCKERS

- 51 A MATCHLESS ENAMEL MINIATURE of Cowley, the Poet, by ZINCKE, from Sir Peter Lely's celebrated portrait
In the words of Horace Walpole, this specimen may be pronounced Zincke's masterpiece; it is certainly a most beautiful piece of enamel painting. The miniature has been engraved for Mr. Hurd's edition of Cowley's works. It is thus spoken of in Pilkington's Dictionary of Painters, "There is a head of Cowley, by Zincke, after Sir Peter Lely, in the possession of the Hon. Mr. Horace Walpole, which is allowed to excel any single work of that charming enameller. The impassioned glow of sentiment, the eyes swimming with youth and tenderness, and the natural fall of the long ringlets that flow around the unbuttoned collar, are rendered with the most exquisite nature, and finished with elaborate care."

A Series of the finest Enamels, by PETITOT.

- 52 A splendid enamel miniature, by PETITOT, of HENRIETTA, DUCHESS of ORLEANS, in a fine gold frame, with a looking glass at its back

No. 15.

83 A TRULY MAGNIFICENT AND MATCHLESS SPECIMEN OF ART, which may unquestionably be denominated the GEM of this extraordinary assemblage of all that is rare and valuable, THE RENOWNED SILVER BELL, made expressly for POPE CLEMENT VII. by that unrivalled artist BENVENUTO CELLINI.

It is a mass of carving in the highest relievo, representing antique masques, serpents, flies, grasshoppers, and various insects covering its surface, the Virgin and Child with angels at the top, and a wreath of leaves and lizards at the base; the taste of the whole design and the spirit of its execution are perfectly unique, the delicate and natural representation of the figures and insects, and their wonderful display, make almost every thing credible that this inimitable artist says of himself in his Life

This extraordinary bijou was for a long period in the collection of the Marquis Leonati of Parma, and was purchased by the Marquis of Roekingham, who exchanged it with Horace Walpole for some very scarce Roman coins and medals.— Vide Catalogue of Strawberry-Hill.

84 The great seal of Theodore King of Corsica, an interesting and singular relic, accompanied by that very curious document, his discharge from the Insolvent Court, where he is styled, Theodore Stephen King of Corsica, Baron of Newhoff and Stein, Grandee of Spain, &c., also his capitulations made with the people of Corsica on his election, and signed by his own hand

It is recorded that, in May, 1756, a man who had worn a crown and wielded a sceptre took the benefit of the Insolvent Act, and registered in his schedule, on behalf of his creditors, THE KINGDOM OF CORSICA. Notwithstanding his liberation, he remained within the liberties of the Fleet for some months, when he removed to Little Chapel Street, Soho, where he died December 11th, 1756. Some difficulty occurring respecting the funeral charges, he was interred at the expense of one Wright, an Oilman, in Compton Street, who said "he was determined for once to have the honour of burying a King!" Horace Walpole, soon after, caused a neat marble monument surmounted by a Crown to be erected near the grave in St. Anne's churehyard, with this inscription from his pen—"Near this spot is interred THEODORE KING OF CONSICA, who died in this parish, December 11, 1756, immediately after leaving the King's Bench prison, by the benefit of the Act of Insolvency, in consequence of which he registered his kingdom of Corsica for the benefit of his creditors.

"The grave, great teacher, to a level orings
Heroes and beggars, galley slaves and kings!
But Theodore his moral learn'd ere dead,
Fate pourea its lesson on his living head,
Bestow'd a kingdom and deny'd him bread!"

No. 15.

- 85 A fine antique, the Deity of Gardens, two phalli, a fibula, two sacrificing instruments, and a small eagle, all of bronze
From the collection of Dr. Conyers Middleton.
- 86 A beautiful gold medal of the Emperor Maximilian II., very fine, in a splendid setting, chased and enamelled, with the arms of the empire and a chain to suspend the same
- 87 A small gold and enamelled watch of beautiful workmanship, the back representing old English Minstrels. It was presented by George II. when Prince of Wales to Catherine Lady Walpole
- 88 A very curious ancient square GERMAN WATCH, in a silver gilt case, richly chased, a rare specimen of the early period
- 89 A curious and very beautiful ANTIQUE WATCH, enamelled on gold, with subjects from the Roman History, the designs by Pietro Cortona, a truly exquisite specimen of this rare art
- 90 A TRULY VALUABLE and MATCHLESS VOLUME, pronounced by the Cognoscenti as the most wonderful of the works of art which adorn this rare collection. It contains the Psalms of David written with a pen on fine vellum, and adorned by 21 inimitable illuminations by DON JULIO CLOVIO, pupil of GIULIO ROMANO, most vivid in colour and effect; the excellence of the figures can only be placed in comparison with the beauty of the borders, which are in the purest antique taste, and unrivalled for their lustre and harmony.

This extraordinary gem is in a fine state of preservation, and is considered to be more perfect than any of the works of this unrivalled master. It was painted as is described on one of the illuminations, Principi Andegavensi, 1537; was afterwards in the Arundelian collection, on the dispersion of which, it was purchased by the Earl of Oxford in 1720, who bequeathed it to his daughter the Duchess of Portland, and at the sale of her Grace's celebrated museum, Horace Walpole became the purchaser in 1786

This book, so truly precious, is richly bound, and adorned with silver gilt clasps and corners, it is preserved in a satinwood case, ornamented with lapis lazuli and agates, and on the top is an exquisite emblematical drawing, by Wm. Lock, Esq., of Norbury Park.

The rare old Raphael or Faenza Ware, and interesting and curious Relics.

IN THE CABINET IN THE NORTH BED CHAMBER.

Faenza, a small town of the Roman State, possessed in the 15th century a manufactory of the ware known as Faenza, Faience, Majolica and Fynlina, at which, according to Lamartinière, Raphael, Giulio Romano, and the Caracci employed their pencils. Of this incomparable ware, Strawberry Hill is rich in specimens that are quite unique, and which, from their extreme rarity, will doubtless secure the attention of the Virtuoso, as opportunities to possess this splendid ware but seldom occur.

No. 16.

LAUDIN, a distinguished enameller at Limoges during the reign of Henri IV., his descendants, as well as those of Naudin, a contemporary artist in the same style, resided and worked in that town at the end of the reign of Louis XIV.

No. 16.

67 A silver gilt Apostle's spoon, the workmanship exceedingly beautiful

68 A ditto ungilt

69 Two ditto ungilt

APOSTLE SPOONS.—Such spoons were formerly presented by sponsors and visitors at christenings. The small figure surmounting the handle, representing the figure of the Saint after whom the child was called or the patron Saint of the donor. Brand alludes particularly to this custom, and cites numerous authorities. It appears to have declined in the time of the Commonwealth, as Shipman writes in his "Gossips," 1666:—

" Formerly, when they us'd to trowl
Gilt bowls of sack, they gave the bowl
Two spoons at least—an use ill kept—
'Tis well if now our own be left."

Addison in the play of the Drummer, mentions Apostle's spoons, and so do Shakespeare and Beaumont and Fletcher; these relics of an old English custom are of a very early time and were a present from the Rev. William Cole.

70 A small antique figure of a Man, naked, the Head of Sir Robert Walpole added by Nattier

71 Nineteen draughtsmen of box wood, carved with Heads of German Princes and Princesses, a present from Charles Duke of Richmond

72 Fourteen ditto

Purchased at the sale of R. Bateman, Esq., at Windsor.

73 A pair of beautiful turquoise blue Oriental China Vases, with handles and covers, mounted with or-molu

74 A pair of small Oriental China basins, pierced, blue and white ground, a saucer and 9 other curious specimens

75 A box with ancient round tablets with Scriptural mottos (an old English game). A present from the Rev. William Cole

76 A curious old German flagon, with a handle and cover, raised Figures Dancing, in relief

77 A tea pot of the old red Japan ware and a ditto of red and black China

78 Nine curious Indian boxes

79 A blue and white China barrel with handles, and a drinking vessel of black earth with handles

80 A salt cellar of the finest old Faenza ware, by Bernard Palizzi, of tripod form, supported by Dolphins, and quite unique

No. 16.

- 81 A magnificent specimen of the old Limoges enamel, representing the story of Abraham and Melchizedec, brilliant in colour, and very beautiful in effect. A present from George William Hervey, Earl of Bristol
- 82 A small Wedgewood Etruscan vase
- 83 An Oriental alabaster vase and cover, with arabesque ornaments sculptured in relief, and 2 ewers of ancient glass
- 84 *A singularly interesting and curious relic of the superstition of our ancestors—*THE CELEBRATED SPECULUM of KENNEL COAL, highly polished, in a leathern case. It is remarkable for having been used to deceive the mob, by the celebrated Dr. Dee, the conjurer, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. It was originally in the collection of the Mordaunts, Earls of Peterborough, in whose catalogue it is called the black stone, into which Dr. Dee used to call his spirits. From the Mordaunts it passed to Lady Elizabeth Germaine, and from her to John, last Duke of Argyle, whose son, Lord Frederick Campbell, presented it to Mr. Walpole
- 85 A small bust in terra cotta, by Fiamingo, a Portrait of the wife of Nicolo Poussin, the painter, beautifully simple and natural

From the celebrated collection in Paris of M. Mariette.

- 86 The identical spurs worn by King William at the Battle of the Boyne, in a red leather box, lined with green velvet

The collector of relics will highly prize this lot, and its authenticity is unquestionable.

The spurs were preserved in an Irish family, and presented to the late Earl of Harcourt, when Lord Lieutenant, and by him to Horace Walpole.

- 87 A very curious lot, the tortoiseshell case, mounted with silver, in which the celebrated Admiral Van Tromp used to carry his pipes to sea. A present from Mr. Hamilton
- 88 A MATCHLESS SET OF 12 SILVER DESSERT PLATES, beautifully engraved by SIMON VAN DE PASS, upon which are represented the different passages in the Life of the Prodigal Son; they present to the connoisseur very rare and fine specimens of this art at an early time, and are presumed to be unrivalled for beauty of design and excellence of execution

They belonged to Lord Chancellor Clarendon, and descended to his great granddaughter, the celebrated Duchess of Queensbury, and were purchased at the Duke's Auction by Horace Walpole.

- 89 Two ivory billiard sticks, engraved, they belonged to H. Herbert, Earl of Pembroke, and have his crest, a Wyvern holding a Bloody Hand, and the Bear and Ragged Staff, the Crest of his third wife, the famous Mary, sister of Sir Philip Sidney, and an ancient ivory busk, engraved with French designs and mottos
 From the collection of Mr. Gostling, at Canterbury.

NOT HUNG UP.

No. 20.

- 80 A Portrait of Catherine, eldest daughter of Sir Robert Walpole, and sister to Horace Walpole
- 81 The Interior of King's College Chapel, Cambridge, painted with wonderful power and effect, presenting a splendid original picture, by this unrivalled master CANALETTO
- This unquestionable picture is thus mentioned in Pilkington's Dictionary of Painters, "During the residence of this artist in England, he painted a perspective view of King's College Chapel, Cambridge, which is at Strawberry Hill."
- 82 A Portrait of Mr. John Wootton, the Painter, his Mother, his Wife, and his two Children, a very pleasing and spirited group, 1736, by GAVIN HAMILTON
- 83 A Portrait of James Earl of Waldegrave, in a red dress, richly embroidered
- 84 A ditto of a Countess of Waldegrave, by SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS
- 85 A ditto of a Lady of the Waldegrave family

THE GREAT NORTH BED CHAMBER.

- 86 A splendid old picture representing HENRY VIII. AND HIS CHILDREN, an early painting of vast merit, the name of the artist unknown. The Figures are admirably drawn, and the Portraits are of singular interest, from their expressive character. The Turkey carpet and marble pavement are displayed with the utmost exactness

On the frame is the following inscription, in early characters:—

A face of much nobilitye lie in a litle roome, Four States with theyr conditions heare—shadowed in
 A showe, a Father more than valyant, a rare and vertuous Soon,
 A zealus Daughter, in her kynd, what els the world doth knowe,
 And last of all a Vyrgin Queen to England's joy we see,
 Successsveily to hold the right and virtues of the three.

This picture was purchased from the collection of James West, Esq., in 1773.

No. 20.

- 87 A fine whole length Portrait of MARGARET SMITH, wife of THOMAS CARYE, Groom of the Bed-chamber to Charles I., an undoubted picture, and possessing all the astonishing power of this incomparable artist VANDYCK

From the Wharton collection, and afterwards in that of Sir Robert Walpole.

- 88 A ditto of PHILIP HERBERT, EARL OF PEMBROKE AND MONTGOMVRY, with the rod of office of Lord Chamberlain, in the back ground is a View of Old Wilton House; this picture forms an admirable companion to the preceding MYTENS

- 89 A splendid Portrait of KING HENRY VII., on panel

This picture is considered incomparable from its truth to nature, expression, and chiaro scuro—the character and thought in the countenance, and its exact conformity with the bust, by Torreggiano, in the Star-chamber, make it unquestionably a Portrait for which the king sat; and yet the knowledge of light and shade, not possessed even by Holbein, makes it probable that it was retouched by Rubens, of whose colouring it is worthy and whose style it resembles.—Vide Catalogue of Strawberry Hill.

- 90 A half length Portrait of a Grand Master of Malta

- 91 A half length Portrait of a Spanish Grandee

- 92 A Portrait of BIANCA CAPELLA, a finely painted picture, but the hands remain in an unfinished state VASARI

Her story is thus written on a cartouche part of the frame:—Bianca Capella, a Venetian lady, who having disoblged her family by marrying a Florentine banker, was reduced to maintain him by washing linen; Francis the Great Duke saw, fell in love with, and made her his mistress, and her husband his minister; but the latter, after numberless tyrannies, for which she obtained his pardon, and after repeated ill usage of her, for which she pardoned him, having murdered a man, and being again protected by her, the Great Duke told her, that though he would remit her husband's punishment, he would pardon whoever should kill him. The relatives of the deceased murdered the assassin, and Francis married his widow Biance, who was poisoned with him at a banquet by Cardinal Ferdinand, afterwards called the Great, brother and successor of Duke Francis. Montaigne, in his travels, gives a description of Bianca, which corresponds much with this Portrait: “Cette Duchesse est belle a l'opinion Italienne, un visage agréable et imperieux, le corsage gros, et de tetin à leur souhait. Vide Catalogue of Strawberry Hill.

This Picture was purchased from the Vitelli Palace at Florence, by Sir Horace Mann, and sent to Mr. Walpole. For a further interesting account of this Lady and of the picture, see Lord Orford's correspondence with Sir Horace Mann.

- 33 A ditto of SIR EDWARD WALPOLE, second son of Sir Robert Walpole and Catherine Shorter, Knight of the Bath and Clerk of the Pells, in the robes of the Bath, splendidly painted, by SLAUGHTER

No. 21.

- 34 A three-quarter length Portrait of HORACE WALPOLE, afterwards Earl of Orford, third son of Sir Robert Walpole and Catherine Shorter, in a rich blue dress, by RICHARDSON
The nobleman whose enlightened mind projected and formed the matchless collection of all that is rare and valuable at Strawberry Hill.
This Portrait it is fervently hoped will be purchased to adorn the National Gallery.
- 35 A highly interesting and valuable picture, with Portraits of the LADIES LAURA, MARIA, AND HORATIA WALDEGRAVE, daughters of James, second EARL OF WALDEGRAVE, AND MARIA WALPOLE, afterwards Duchess of Gloucester, 1781 SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS
This pleasing composition is treated in the happiest style, the countenances of the ladies are beautifully expressive, the dresses in the best taste, and the articles of furniture most perfectly represented. It is a gem of the highest order.
- 36 A whole length Portrait (but which is turned in) of LADY ANNE OSBORN, daughter of the first Duke of Leeds, first married to Thomas Coke, of Holkham, by whom she was grandmother of Thomas Coke, Lord Lovel and Earl of Leicester; and, secondly, to Horatio Walpole, second son of Sir Edward Walpole, and uncle of Sir Robert, in a rich blue dress, with drapery, by SIR GODFREY KNELLER
- 37 A ditto of DOROTHY, sister of Sir Robert Walpole, and second wife of Charles, Lord Viscount Townsend, K.G. and Secretary of State, in a Turkish habit, richly painted, by JARVIS
- 38 A half length Portrait of MARY LADY MALPAS, second daughter of Sir Robert Walpole and Catherine Shorter, married to George Lord Malpas, afterwards Earl of Cholmondeley, by ECKARDT
- 39 A ditto of LADY MARIA WALPOLE, only child of Sir Robert and Maria Skerret, and wife of Charles Churchill, only son of General Churchill ECKARDT
She is represented in a veil, with a music book before her, a very charming picture.
- 40 A Portrait of LORD RADSTOCK
- 41 A ditto of LADY RADSTOCK and INFANT
- 42 A pair of Portraits; Sir Horace Mann, dressed in red velvet, also his brother, Galfridus Mann, in brown, both painted at Florence, the colouring excellent, by ASTLEY

No. 21.

43 A CONVERSATION, a highly interesting and valuable picture.

Richard, the second Lord Edgecumbe is seen drawing at a table, in the Library at Strawberry Hill, George James Williams is looking over him, and George Augustus Selwyn stands on the other side, with a book in his hand. These gentlemen were the intimate friends of Horace Walpole, and with him formed the well-known Committee of Taste; they were his invariable guests at Christmas and Easter, at Strawberry Hill. The picture is painted in the happiest style of this excellent master, and is finished with the greatest power and effect

SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS

IN THE WAITING ROOM.

- 44 FOUR HIGHLY INTERESTING PAINTINGS, on panel, formerly THE DOORS OF A SHRINE, in the ABBEY OF ST. EDMUNSBURY; they represent Henry Beaufort, Cardinal of Winchester, and John Kemp, Archbishop of Canterbury; on one of the sides is Humphrey Duke of Gloucester, praying, and behind him a Saint holding the Duke's cap of state in one hand and a golden chalice in the other, and a person in the act of adoration in a stable; whence it is probable that the Virgin and Child were represented in the middle piece which is wanting; this person seems to be Joseph, but may be the donor of the altar piece, as above him is a shield of arms of tate. The three Portraits agree remarkably with those of the same persons in the marriage of Henry VI., in the library, especially the Archbishop and the Duke, who has the same bald head and furred mantle

THE CIRCULAR DRAWING ROOM.

- 45 A Portrait of the celebrated MARGARET LEMON, mistress of Vandyck, with a sword, as Judith; a charming specimen, boldly and finely painted in the best style of this renowned master

VANDYCK

The picture was purchased from the collection in Buckingham House.

- 46 THE EDUCATION OF JUPITER, a grand composition, expressed with that daring mastery which at once displays the energetic powers of this great painter

This grand gallery picture is considered matchless as a work of art, it cost Sir Robert Walpole a large sum.

No. 21.7

- 47 LANDSCAPE AND FIGURES, *Jacob travelling from Laban, a very fine and undoubted painting, presenting all the grandeur and effect so remarkable in this master's works SALVATOR ROSA
This splendid picture was presented to Horace Walpole by Sir Horace Mann.
- 48 A GALLERY LANDSCAPE, Mountainous Scene, with Temple of Tivoli, Waterfall and Figures in the foreground. The power of this great master is here exhibited with wonderful effect GOBBO CARACCI
- 49 Portraits of LADY DOROTHY PERCY, COUNTESS OF LEICESTER, and of her sister LADY LUCY, the famous COUNTESS OF CARLISLE VANDYCK
This remarkably fine picture was sold from the collection of Penthurst, by Lady Yonge, when she inherited the half of that ancient seat by the will of Lady Brownlow. Mr. Hoare, of Stourhead, offered the last Earl of Leicester, of the Sidney family, a large sum for this truly valuable picture. Vide Horace Walpole's history of this picture.
- 50 A SPLENDID GALLERY LANDSCAPE, Wild Mountainous Scene with Tempest approaching; a truly fine specimen, in the best and most powerful style of this much esteemed master PAUL BRILL

IN THE LONG GALLERY.

- 51 PORTRAITS of LAURA and CHARLOTTE WALPOLE, the eldest and youngest daughters of Sir Edward Walpole, and wives of Frederick Keppel, Bishop of Exeter, and of Lionel Tolmash, Earl of Dysart, Mrs. Keppel in white, and Lady Dysart in pink, a charming picture, vivid in colour, the dresses and ornaments of the person depicted with surprising effect, giving evidence of a similarity of costume with the present day RAMSAY
- 52 THE MARRIAGE OF HENRY VII., and ELIZABETH OF YORK MABEUSE
A most interesting and valuable old picture, replete with story, the architectural effect is truly surprising, and as an early work of art it possesses a rare instance of the power of perspective, so little known at that period. This valuable picture is most especially mentioned in Walpole's Dictionary of Painters.
- 53 A PORTRAIT OF SIR FRANCIS WALSINGHAM, with a View of his House at Seadbury, in Kent, from Sir Robert Walpole's collection, by FREDERICK ZUCCHERO
This picture has been engraved by Houbraken, amongst the Illustrious Heads.

No. 21.

- 54 A PORTRAIT OF SIR GEORGE VILLIERS, with his hand on the head of a Greyhound, he was the father of George Duke of Buckingham, and Lord Clarendon relates a story of his ghost, a very fine picture, by CORNELIUS JANSEN
- 55 A PORTRAIT OF GEORGE DUKE OF BUCKINGHAM, his son, the Riband of the Garter is placed from the right shoulder, a remarkably fine head, by RUBENS
- 56 A PORTRAIT OF ADMIRAL MONTAGU, EARL OF SANDWICH; Lord Sandwich presented the picture to Mr. Blackwood, from whom it was purchased by Horace Walpole, a finely painted head, by SIR PETER LELY
- 57 THE HOLY FAMILY, in a Landscape, St. John is seen presenting fruit to the Infant Saviour, with Angels fondling a Lamb and gathering fruit and flowers, a highly finished and exquisite specimen of the art, the colours most brilliant and in fine preservation, on copper, by VAN ARTOIS, a pupil of RUBENS
From Sir Robert Walpole's collection.
- 58 THE INSIDE OF AN ANCIENT FLEMISH HOUSE, with groups of Figures in Conversation, and an old Lady Reposing in a Chair; the light and shadows of this picture are most admirably managed, an extremely clever specimen, by OLD FRANKS
- 59 A PORTRAIT OF MR. LENEVE, the Master of the Company of Merchant Tailors; a most bright and pure picture, of extraordinary power, the lace ruff and table cover are beautifully finished, by CORNELIUS JANSEN
- 60 A PORTRAIT OF MR. LENEVE, Alderman of Norwich, son of the preceding gentleman; it has been pronounced as fine a specimen of the art as Vandyck's Countess of Leicester, and considered to be the best picture ever painted by SIR PETER LELY
- 61 A PORTRAIT OF MRS. LENEVE, wife of the preceding gentleman, an equally clever picture, by SIR PETER LELY
- 62 A PORTRAIT OF MARGUERITTE DE VALOIS, DUCHESSE DE SAVOIE, on panel, she was sister of Henry II. of France, who was killed at the tournament for her wedding, by SIR ANTONIO MORE

This picture was once the property of King Charles I., rendering it of peculiar interest to the collector.

- 63 A PORTRAIT OF JOHN LORD SHEFFIELD, husband of Lady Douglas Sheffield, on whose account it was surmised that he was poisoned by Richard Earl of Leicester, by SIR ANTONIO MORE

This fine old picture is from the collection at Buckingham House.

- 64 A Portrait of HENRY JERMYN, EARL OF ST. ALBANS, the favourite, and as Sir John Reresby says, second husband of QUEEN HENRIETTA MARIA, a fine old picture, by OLD STONE
- 66 A Portrait of FRANCES BRIDGES, daughter of the LORD CHANDOS and second wife of THOMAS CECIL, EARL OF EXETER, on whose left hand she refused to lie on his tomb in Westminster Abbey VANDYCK

This lady was most falsely accused of many crimes, of which she was entirely innocent and acquitted. See an account in Granger's Biographical History of English Portraits, vol. 1, page 548.

The picture, which is in the best style of the master, belonged to Richardson, the painter, who has written a dissertation in its praise.

It was purchased of Hudson, the painter, son-in-law of Richardson.

- 67 A Portrait of SIR GODFREY KNELLER, as a Young Man, by himself SIR GODFREY KNELLER

From the collection of Selater Bacon, of Cambridgeshire.

- 68 THE VIRGIN AND CHILD, a pleasing copy of the celebrated picture, by Dominichino, at Houghton, by JOHN DAVIS, ESQ., of Watlington
- 69 An oval Portrait of ANNE HYDE, DUCHESS OF YORK, a beautiful picture, painted with great power and expression, by MRS. BEALE
- 70 An oval Portrait of CATHERINE SIDLEY, COUNTESS OF DORCHESTER, mistress of James II., and mother of the Duchess of Buckingham, by DAHL

A pleasing companion picture to the preceding lot.

IN THE NICHES.

- 71 A Portrait of JAMES, SECOND EARL OF WALDEGRAVE, with the Star and Riband of the Garter SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS

A most expressive and charming Portrait, in the first style of this celebrated painter.

No. 21.

- 72 A Portrait of MARIA, second daughter of SIR EDWARD WALPOLE, widow of James Earl of Waldegrave, and wife of William Henry Duke of Gloucester, brother of King George III., by

SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS

This truly charming Portrait is in the happiest style of this inimitable artist ; it is a gem of the highest order, and forms the companion picture to the preceding lot.

- 73 A Portrait in crayons of JOHN LAW, the inventor of the Mississippi scheme, and Prime Minister to the Regent, Philip, Duke of Orleans, glazed ROSALBA Considered one of the best pictures of this master.

- 73* A Portrait of FRANCIS SEYMOUR CONWAY, EARL of HERTFORD, in court costume, glazed ROSALBA

- 74 A Portrait of BASHAW BONNEVAL, in crayons, and glazed LIOTARD

- 74* A Portrait of HENRY FOX, Lord Holland, in crayons, and glazed LIOTARD

A series of beautiful pictures, by SCOTT.

- 75 A Sea Fight, in which Admiral Sandwich met his death SCOTT

- 76 A pleasing View of Kirkstall Abbey SCOTT

- 77 A ditto of a Church, near Boulogne SCOTT

- 78 A Sea Piece, the Lion Man-of-War chasing the vessel in which Prince Charles Edward was proceeding to Scotland SCOTT

- 79 A pleasing picture, View of Bristol Cross and Abbey, with Figures in the foreground SCOTT

- 80 A charming scene, View of a Church and Gothic Farm, near Marble Hill, belonging to the Countess of Suffolk, and designed by Richard Bentley, Esq. SCOTT

- 81 A Portrait of the celebrated MADAME DE SEVIGNÉ (an oval). A present from Lady Hervey

- 82 THE EXTERIOR OF A KITCHEN, with Girl Scouring Pots, a Boy hanging up a Bird Cage, and Man in the Doorway WATTEAU

This curious picture is considered to be painted in the style of Rembrandt, rendering it a peculiar specimen of the master, it was originally in the collection of Mr. Cooke, Member for Middlesex.

- 83 A very pleasing Landscape, with Waggon and Horses on a Road, with Castle in the distance MUNTZ

This picture is painted in encoustic, which this celebrated master improved, from Count Caylus' rules.

No. 21.

- 84 The companion picture, a River Scene, with Fishermen, also in encaustic, by MUNTZ
- 85 A pleasing drawing in water colours, Portraits of Thomas Earl of Arundel, and his grandson, Cardinal Howard, 1746 G VERTUE
Copied from the celebrated Portraits by Vandyck.
- 86 A Portrait in crayons of Lady Sophia Fermor, as the Goddess Juno, eldest daughter of Thomas Earl of Pomfret, and second wife of John Earl of Granville, Prime Minister to George II. ROSALBA
- 87 Two Men cheating another at Cards, a very clever picture, full of character, equal to Teniers JOHN MIEL
- 88 A SMALL LANDSCAPE, with Man driving a Flock of Sheep, and another leading an Ass up a Hill, with Castle in the distance GASPARD POUSSIN
This cabinet gem was a legacy from Sir Horace Mann, Envoy to Florence, and is considered a charming specimen of the master.
- 89 A SPLENDID GALLERY PICTURE, whole length Portraits of Catherine de Medici and her children, Charles IX., Henry III., the Duc D'Alençon, and Margaret, Queen of Navarre, by JANET
This extraordinary and powerful picture was purchased from Mr. Byde's collection in Hertfordshire, it displays with the greatest accuracy the rich costume of the period, and as a work of art, may be pronounced matchless. A strong likeness it will be observed is visible in the countenances of the children, which present a fine instance of the early period of Portrait painting.
- 90 A Portrait of GRIFFIERE, the painter, a most clever Portrait, the satin on the arm, it will be remarked, is exceedingly bright and glossy, the picture possessing vast merit as a work of art, by ZOUST
- 91 A Portrait of SEVONYANS, the painter, by himself, a very fine head SEVONYANS
- 92 A Young Man's Head, in a rich black velvet dress trimmed with fur, in a carved frame GIORGIONE
The Portrait is considered wonderfully true to nature. It was in the collection of Charles I. Vide Topham's Catalogue.
- 93 A VASE OF FLOWERS, highly finished and richly coloured, the drawing excellent OLD BAPTISTE
From Sir Robert Walpole's collection.

No. 21.

- 94 Portraits of CHARLES BRANDON, DUKE OF SUFFOLK, and MARY QUEEN OF FRANCE; a very expressive picture, the dresses highly finished and richly decorated in the fashion of the period. The frame is of elegant design, by Kent, and is considered a very fine work of art

This picture was originally in the collection of the Earl of Westmorland, at Apthorpe, and afterwards was possessed by Lord Granville.

- 95 TOBIT BURYING THE DEAD, the colouring of this picture is most vivid and true to nature, by BENEDETTO CASTIGLIONE
 "And when Tobit found any dead, he buried them without the walls of Jerusalem."

THE WINDOWS, SIDE OF GALLERY.

- 96 A whole length Portrait of THOMAS LORD HOWARD, of BINDON, FATHER of FRANCES DUCHESS of RICHMOND and LENNOX, represented in the Robes of the Garter
 97 A ditto of LODOWIC STUART, DUKE of RICHMOND and LENNOX, also in the Robes of the Garter

The above Portraits are from Luton House, in Bedfordshire, where the latter nobleman lived.

- 98 A whole length Portrait of FRANCES DUCHESS of RICHMOND and LENNOX MARK GARRARD

See a curious account of this great lady in Wilson's reign of King James I. This picture came from Easton Neston, the seat of Thomas Earl of Pomfret.

- 99 A whole length Portrait of HENRY CAREY, LORD FALKLAND, Deputy of Ireland, and father of the famous Lucius Lord Falkland, in white robes, a remarkably fine picture, painted with vast power, the robes presenting the most natural effect, by VANSOMER

The idea of the picture walking out of its frame in the Castle of Otranto, was suggested to Horace Walpole from the effect produced by this Portrait.

- 100 A Portrait of MRS. CATHERINE PHILIPS, the poetess
 From the collection of Charles Earl of Halifax.

- 101 A Portrait of Philip Villiers de Lisle Adam, the last Grand Master of Rhodes, which he defended during a period of two years against Solyman the Magnificent and a prodigious army

No. 21.

- 102 A Sea Piece, View of Mount Orgueil in Jersey, by RICHARD BENTLEY, ESQ.
- 103 A pair of small oval Portraits of VANDYCK and PRIOR, the poet
- 104 A Portrait of RICHARD RIGBY, Paymaster of the Forces, and Master of the Rolls in Ireland, by ECKARDT broke and Montgomery

There is a medal of the above lady taken from this picture. See an account of her in the catalogue of Royal and Noble Authors.
- 114 A very fine Portrait of the unfortunate THOMAS HOWARD, DUKE OF NORFOLK, who was beheaded for befriending the cause of Mary Queen of Scots, by SIR ANTONIO MORE
In this picture he is represented as a young man, it was therefore probably painted in the reign of Edward VI., before he was restored in blood, for there are his arms without a coronet, and yet on his handkerchief are an N and a † to mark his title and his religion.
- 115 A Sea Piece, with View of the Coast, a clever picture SCOTT

IN THE WAITING ROOM.

- 116 A drawing, a whole length Portrait, by HUMPHRIES
